I am very concerned by Walmart's constant search of power. A Walmart Bank would give a company which has a history of skirting and bending the law even more control over our lives. They are now using their extreme wealth and control to try and influence schooling, religion and aspects of America's greatness. Personally I NEVER go into their stores. I have a low paying job and blame Walmart, who's family are extremely wealthy for workers problems in America. Wages, Employment of non documented workers, Discrimination against women, Pharmacies restricting drugs. They are a disgrace to America and should not be rewarded by another Dangerous concentration of Power.

Thank you for reading my dialogue.
